

Andrew Howis BSc (Hons)
Design Associate

Andrew Howis graduated from the University of Edinburgh having had an educational background in biological sciences with a keen interest in lighting from an early age. Andrew has a particular interest in the psychological and physiological effects of lighting.

He began his career in theatrical lighting, progressing on to architectural lighting. Working for four years at Elektra Lighting Design, Andrew worked on project such as; Chelsea Harbour Design Centre refurbishment, the Greenhouse Restaurant in Mayfair and McDonalds flagship Restaurant, which was awarded the 'Retail, Restaurant and Hotels' award at the Lighting Design Awards in 2004.

Andrew joined Speirs and Major Associates as a Senior Lighting Designer and became a Design Associate in April 2007.

Whilst working at Speirs and Major Associates Andrew has worked on a variety of projects including; The Skylon Restaurant at the Royal Festival Hall, Russia Towers in Moscow, One New Change, St Botolphs and Watermark Place in London.

London Studio:
11-15 Emerald Street London WC1N 3QL, United Kingdom
Telephone +44 (0) 20 7067 4700
Fax +44 (0) 20 7067 4701
Email info@samassociates.com